

Memorial Book

In Loving Memory of

Lauren Beth Cooper

(January 28, 1988 - July 13, 2006)

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways. I love thee to the depth and breadth and height My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight for the ends of being and ideal grace. I love thee to the level of every day's most quiet need, by sun and candle-light. I love thee freely, as men strive for right; I love thee purely, as they turn from praise. I love thee with a passion put to use in my old grief's, and with my childhood's faith. I love thee with a love I seemed to lose with my lost saints, ---I love thee with the breath, smiles, tears, of all my life!--- and, if God choose, I shall but love thee better after death.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning

This memorial website was created to celebrate the life of our daughter, sister, granddaughter, niece, cousin and friend Lauren Beth Cooper who was born in Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, England on January 28, 1988 and passed away in Campbellville, Ontario, Canada on July 13, 2006 at the age of 18. You will live forever in our memories and hearts.

The background is a textured, mottled olive-green color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is a smaller, tighter bud, while the one on the right is a larger, more open flower with many layers of petals. The roses are rendered in a slightly darker shade of the background color, giving them a subtle, embossed appearance.

The image features two roses, one smaller and one larger, positioned in the upper right quadrant. They are rendered in a light, almost ethereal tone against a textured, olive-green background. The roses appear to be made of a delicate material, possibly paper or fabric, with soft shadows and highlights that give them a three-dimensional feel. The overall aesthetic is classic and elegant, suitable for a memorial service.

Two roses are positioned in the upper right quadrant of the image. The rose on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more fully bloomed. Both roses are rendered in a light, almost ethereal tone, blending with the background. The background itself is a mottled, textured olive-green or sepia color, giving it a vintage or aged appearance.

This poem touched my heart and I wanted to share it with you and yours...

I am Standing on the Seashore

I am standing on the seashore. A ship spreads her white sails to the morning breeze & starts for the ocean. I stand watching her until she fades on the horizon, & someone at my side says, "She is gone." Gone where? The loss of sight is in me, not in her. Just at the moment when someone says, "She is gone," there are others who are watching her coming.

Other voices take up the glad shout, "Here she comes," & that is dying.—Canon Henry Scott Holland.

The image features two roses, one smaller and one larger, positioned in the upper right quadrant. They are rendered in a light, monochromatic tone that blends with the overall muted, olive-green background. The background has a subtle, mottled texture, suggesting aged paper or a soft-focus photograph. The roses are the focal point of the upper half of the composition.

Shared Memoirs

all the gray you turned into colors...

Mark Eagle

There is so much I didn't know about you Lauren, in particular your love of music and a certain favourite band of yours, The Beatles. In honour of this I have included a picture I took at the Mathew Street festival in Liverpool, August 2005. On stage is a Beatles tribute band including a John Lennon look alike!

All my memories of you are before you moved to America, Christmas's at the grandparents, weddings and the odd birthday. Some of those stand out more than the others such as you Nicola and Deb visiting our house just before you were about to move. You kept trying to climb on my shoulders but I was wearing an Ipswich Town football shirt so you kept sliding off! Playing on my drum kit and you wanting to make lots of noise with the cymbals. Then there was the party at the grandparents also just before you left where you and Nicola painted my fingernails. Oh and Grandma playing catch the ball in the lounge with you and Nicola!!

Finally there is the memory of going shopping in Bury St Edmunds with our mums and sisters when you were living in Bury. Driving to the shops in Debs car with Billy Joel's song We Didn't Start the Fire constantly playing on the stereo with all you girls singing along. Walking round the shops you wanted to be carried all the time, of course I couldn't say no to that cheeky smile of yours!

It's with these memories I will always remember you and to this day haven't stopped thinking about you, until we meet again some day. Love you always Little Beautiful Cousin.

Jenna Peper

Lauren.. I have to admit we did some pretty stupid stuff together, but it was all so worth it! Between the boys we wrote on toilet paper about, the food we cooked in your kitchen, or the times we spent fighting about who's hair looked cuter, they are memories that will stay with me forever. I can still taste the mashed potatoes and stuffing we cooked, and not to mention, burnt almost everyday, or at least whenever you had them. I wish I could tell you how awesome every one of your friends are, as I was so belligerently drunk at your house without you, and they STILL put up with me! I cannot count the good times we have had together, and I am excited to see you again someday. I love you Lauren, and God Bless.

Andrew Bass

Lauren your love for life inspired me to become a better person. You truly saw the silver lining around every cloud. Your upbeat attitude was unequalled. I will never forget all the night parties we had at my house that you loved so much, watching the sun come up from my bedroom window to watching your drunken tumbles down my basement stairs. The never-ending photo shoot with your camera has been a blessing for all of your loved ones since your passing. Drunken Blue Jay games, making out in the bleachers, and defending you from the angry mobs that you told off on the go train. I will truly miss the presence you had in my life. Lauren you had a smile that could clear a cloudy sky. You truly were one in a million babe. The love and memories that we shared together will travel with me no matter where life takes me. The time I spent with you will forever be a landmark in my life. You were a friend, a drinking buddy, a crush. You will be in my heart forever Lauren. Although we have lost you we can be at peace because I know you're in heaven smiling down on us. I love you Coop God bless your soul!

Until we meet again love.... L.B.C FOREVER

Miranda, Kirsten and Baylie

Lauren Beth(any) Cooper

From drinking at Blue Jays/Football Games, bowling, playing hoops for heart at school, school dances (crying for ABSOLUTELY no reason... "Emotions" fault), sports banquets, concerts, and getting Shannon suspended, you were most certainly the wildest and most drunk girl who ever came into our lives. As most know, the four of us shared a common love for food. Some of the best times were when we were simply eating chips, burning our food on the BBQ or making our AMAZING drunken sandwiches at your house (Stuie, we thought we always cleaned up so well... apparently not haha). You will always be remembered to most of us as "the life of the pre-bezz"... it was always a surprise to see you up past 11 o'clock. One of the best things about you is that you set your "by the end of grade 12 I want to have . . ." goals and accomplished them within two months wooooooohooooo ; D. Even though it may not have lasted long, the times that us four were able to share are definitely ones that will always be remembered, not only by us, but by those all around us. The times that we fully remember are also some of our favourites, like going to wasaga beach, tanning/swimming at your house, being bored at Kirsten and Baylie's house (before going out to drink), watching the guys play poker in Clayton's garage or playing soccer with friends at Laurier Park. All of these memories will forever make us laugh and appreciate every moment we were able to spend together. Along with your smile, your laugh is something that all three of us can still hear and will most certainly never forget. You are our sunshine (our only sunshine), and we know that you will be watching over us for the rest of our lives. Love you soooooo much, more than you'll ever know.

L.B.C forever

The image features two roses, one smaller and one larger, positioned in the upper right quadrant. They are set against a textured, olive-green background that resembles aged paper or parchment. The roses are rendered in a soft, slightly faded style, blending into the background.
